

Dear Jesus, I pray for the mothers and fathers who teach their children at home, either through homeschooling or through aiding their children with homework and projects. Please give them wisdom to guide their children to You, and please give them patience to teach and a heart to direct their children towards You and Your Will.

James 1:5

Dear Lord, I lift up the parents of students at our school. I ask that You give them a desire and the ability to be involved in their children's education. Help them to support their child, and to be active in every part of their child's life. Please equip them to be able to prepare their child for a lifetime of learning and growing and give them knowledge to train their children in the way they should go.

Proverbs 22:6
